STUDENTS TO VOTE ON ORCHESTRA

DEBATERS

Will Travel West

Team To Meet Marquette, Loyola, St. Louis U., On Trip

Coincident with the return of the debating squad which is encountering the universities of North-eastern Ohio this week, another team will leave on an extended tour of the West.

John Brockman and Richard Kearney, seniors in the College of Liberal Arts, will travel to Milwaukee, Wis., to engage Marquette University on Saturday night, February 16th. From there the debaters will journey to Chicago to meet Loyola University on the following day. On Monday evening they will engage the University of St. Louis at St. Louis, Mo. Contracts have not yet been signed, but there is a possibility that the squad will then travel to Champaign, Ill., to encounter the University of Illinois.

The debates will all be held upon the same question: Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions. Brockman and Kearney will uphold the affirmative side in all engagements. Both men are experienced in intercollegiate debating, Brockman having served upon the team for the past two years, and Kearney for the past three.

Xavier Professor On Club Forum

Rev. Dr. Stechschulte Sched- uled To Lecture On The Earth's Phenomena

"Our Restless Earth and the Seismograph" will be discussed by the Rev. Dr. Victor C. Stechschulte, S. J., next Sunday night when he delivers the second in a series of lectures sponsored by the Xavier Club of Louisville at the Brown Hotel.

Dr. Stechschulte, who is professor of Physics at Xavier, is also director of the Seismological Observatory. He will recount the details of some interesting earthquakes that have come under his observation, and will present lantern-slide illustrations of various points.

The series will be concluded by William L. Reenan, who will talk on "Rare Book Collecting As A Hobby," on Sunday, February 24. Mr. Reenan, who is affiliated with the American Book Company of Cincinnati and New York, is at present assisting William T. Howe in collecting rare books.

A capacity crowd attended the opening lecture of the series, Sunday, delivered by the Rev. Dr. Felix N. Pitt on the subject "Nationalism." The series is the first under Catholic auspices to be given in Louisville for several years, and has aroused much attention.

Thompson A. Willett and John E. Snyder, officers of the Louisville Club, have charge of arrangements.

World Court To Be Discussed At Meeting Of Philopiedian Society

At the meeting of the Philopiedian Society, Monday, February 18, an open discussion will be held upon the World Court. The topic will be introduced by two speakers, the first of whom will urge the entrance of the United States into the Court, while this viewpoint will be attacked by the second speaker. Following these discussions the question will be placed before the house. An exciting series of arguments is expected due to the recent contest in the Senate over the entrance of the United States into the Court.

Dante Club Lectures At Covington Academy

The Dante Club of the University gave the third lecture of the current season at the Villa Madonna Academy in Covington, this morning. Lawrence Flynn, Louis Haase, and Joseph Downey delivered the lecture which was scheduled for 10:30 a. m. The lecture presented was entitled "The Madonna in Art." This lecture was written by Mr. Edward Doering, president of the Dante Club in 1934, and has proved to be one of the most popular in the repertoire of the club.

Last Monday the Club presented the first two lectures of the current season, one in the afternoon at Our Lady of Mercy High School on Freeman Avenue, and the other in the evening at St. Gregory Seminary at Mount Washington. Both lectures were well received.

St. John's Is Next Opponent

R. Helmick, P. Riesenber, C. Koch, To Make Up Xavier Team

Friday night the Xavier Debating Team will meet the debaters from St. John's College, Toledo. The Xavier team will be composed of Robert Helmick, Charles Koch and Paul Riesenber.

The question is the accepted Pi Kappa Delta subject for this season: Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions. Xavier will uphold the negative side of this question. Richard Kearney, Xavier senior, will serve as chairman.

The debate is to be held in the Mary Lodge Reading Room on the campus and is of obligation for all sophomores.

Mr. Howard Wilson, a Cincinnati attorney and former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of this city, will act as critic judge and award the decision.

Last Friday afternoon Xavier debated Denison at the College of the Sacred Heart, Clifton. The Rev. Charles E. Spence, who acted as critic judge, awarded Xavier the decision for having presented the best case, while stating that the Denison team was superior in delivery.

Xavier debaters meet the team from Ashbury College on Wednesday, Feb. 20th. The men who will represent Xavier have not yet been selected.

Wiethe To Coach At Roger Bacon High

Was Legion Of Honor Man And Xavier Football Captain

John "Soko" Wiethe, former Captain of the Xavier University Musketeers and co-receiver of the Legion of Honor Award in 1934, has been appointed head football coach at Roger Bacon High School in St. Bernard, Ohio. Wiethe will succeed Joseph Morrissey of Notre Dame.

Since graduation Wiethe has been employed at Roger Bacon High School as professor of History, and as assistant basketball coach. He is a graduate of Roger Bacon, having received his diploma in 1930.

John Wiethe, while playing guard and tackle for the Xavier University Musketeers, was selected on the All-Ohio football team two years in succession. He was also chosen on Carnegie Tech's all-opponent team. Wiethe was elected captain of one of the greatest teams in the history of Xavier University. He led an inspired varsity against Indiana's Big Ten team and upset them 6-0.

John "Soko" Wiethe was graduated from Xavier University in 1934.

CLEF CLUB

Will Give Concert

At Mt. St. Joseph College This Evening At 7:45 P. M.

This evening at 7:45 p. m. the Clef Club of Xavier University will present an important formal concert at Mt. St. Joseph College at Delhi, Ohio. The appearance of Xavier's choral organization at this particular school has become an annual highlight on the Clef Club schedule.

According to Mr. Castellini, director, the club will present a full length program featuring the usual soloists. The arrangement of the program, however, will be entirely different from that given at St. Mary's High School, yesterday afternoon. More than fifteen musical compositions including religious, romantic, and comedy themes, will be sung by the forty-eight male voices of the Clef Club.

The concert at Mt. St. Joseph College tonight, will mark the fifth public appearance of the Xavier Clef Club during the past three weeks. This month's schedule is one of the busiest ever undertaken by the Clef Club.

Tentative plans are being made for the appearance of the Clef Club at the Paramount Theatre in Hamilton, Ohio. If the plans materialize two concerts will be given at this theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 7th and 8th.

On February 28th the Xavier University Clef Club will make its final public appearance in February at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Joseph J. Gruenwald, due to the absence of the Editor, has acted in the capacity of Editor-in-Chief for this particular issue of the Xavier News. Paul Barrett, Editor, has left on an extended debate tour with two other members of the Xavier University debating team.

Night School Holds Dance This Evening

Johnny Lewis To Provide Mu- sic For The Occasion

Students from the Avondale campus are invited to attend the Annual Card Party and Dance sponsored tonight in the ballroom of the Hotel Gibson by the Co-operators Society of the Xavier University downtown division.

John Hock, president of the Society, is in charge of the arrangements for the affair. He announced that dancing will be the main feature of the evening and that a twelve piece orchestra directed by Johnny Lewis will provide music from 9 to 1.

Attractive awards will be given for the card and lotto games, which will begin at 8:30. The ballroom has been decorated with colors suggestive of Valentine's Day, Hock announced.

Besides Hock, the following are serving on committees: Ticket Committee, Fred Weber, chairman, George Rehtin, Joseph Kloop, Harry Weber, Robert Noll, and Richard Roth; Prize and Card Committee: Ester Kellams, chairman, Janet Tobin, Mary Tobin, Ann Finn, Margaret Moore, Margaret Mary Gibbons, Virginia Bockleman, Margaret Donlon, Susan Hoover, Catherine Lohr, Eleanor Zins, Rosemary Weber, Freida Spohr, Agnes Beckmyer, Adelaide Wilger, and Elsie Reid; Publicity Committee, Kylius Jones, chairman, Patrick Walsh, Joseph Boone, and George Rehtin.

The Rev. John C. Malloy, S. J., director of the night school, is adviser for the affair.

Stag Party Is Planned By Xavier Clef Club

Arrangements were begun Thursday evening for the presentation of the Stag Party of the Clef Club. The party, which is an annual affair of this organization, will probably be held at one of the downtown hotels.

Paul Fettig was appointed chairman of the committee in charge and will be assisted by Kim Darragh, James Mulligan, Leo Voet, and Joseph Gruenwald. The party has the approval of Father Usher, moderator of the Clef Club, and Mr. John Castellini, the director, and will be held sometime during March. This year it is proposed to limit the attendance to members of the club.

The affair will be informal in nature, with cards probably furnishing the feature attraction.

Bishop Sullivan To Be Honored

Booklovers To Give Silver Tea When Cleric Visits Cincinnati

A silver tea and reception for the Most Reverend Bernard J. Sullivan, S. J., Bishop of Patna, India, will be given by the Xavier University Booklovers when that distinguished cleric visits Cincinnati late in February.

Bishop Sullivan is now in the United States in the interest of his earthquake-devastated mission in central India. He is a member of the Chicago Province of the Society of Jesus.

Mrs. George J. Linfert, president of the Booklovers, announced plans this week for the tea and reception. It will be held on Wednesday, February 20, from 3 to 5 p. m., in the Reception Lobby of the Biology Building on the Avondale campus.

A committee of Booklovers has been selected by Mrs. Linfert to handle the details of the affair. Those who will assist are Mrs. Louis J. Tukey, Mrs. Nicholas J. Janson, Mrs. William Meyer, Mrs. William Wickemeyer, Mrs. John P. Ryan, Mrs. J. Kiefer, Mrs. James J. Grogan, Miss Ada Hummel, Mrs. John Monahan, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mrs. Louise Brockman, Mrs. Catherine A. McGrath, and Mrs. Clarence J. Grogan.

All friends of Xavier and of the India Mission have been invited to attend. Bishop Sullivan is expected to give an informal address on India during the course of the afternoon.

Albert Stephen Is Sodality Prefect

He Is Elected After Regular Election Results In A Tie

Albert A. Stephen, a student in the College of Liberal Arts, was elected prefect of the Junior Sodality Monday morning at a special election of the Sodality held in Belmarine Chapel after Mass.

Stephen had tied with Vincent E. Smith in the regular election held the previous week. Both he and Smith were assistant prefects during the first half-year. Smith becomes assistant prefect, along with William A. Kiley, who was chosen at the regular election.

In announcing his plans for the coming semester, Stephen said the Sodality would reorganize the Catholic Evidence Guild, a group of students who talk on religious topics at an Inquiry class held in the downtown division of the University. Upperclassmen are invited to join the Guild, he said. They are asked to communicate with the Rev. C. J. Steiner, S. J., Sodality moderator.

SUCCESS

Of Junior Prom

Depends On Attitude Of The Students In Regard To This Voting

What type of orchestra do you desire to play for the annual Junior Promenade? The committee in charge of the affair requests the opinion of the student body of Xavier University concerning the selection of a nationally known band at the usual prom price or a cheaper or local band at reduced admission prices.

This year the Junior Prom is all important. The success of all future Xavier proms depend upon this affair. Since this is the first time the dance has been held off-campus in recent years it is up to the students of Xavier University to decide whether they desire to make it a success or not, and thus insure future off-campus affairs. For the first time in the history of the school the annual prom will be under the direct supervision of the Social Committee. Since the Social Committee is a student organization it must necessarily have the approval and support of the entire student body.

The committee acting in the absence of its Chairman, Paul Barrett, consists of acting chairman, Phil Bucklew, Leo Sack, Frank Schaefer, Jerry Jansen, Charles McDowell and Dominic Sigillo. This committee asks the advice of the entire student body in the matter of the orchestra.

Phil Bucklew appeals to the students to take this voting seriously because much depends upon it.

Possible selections include the nationally known bands of Don Bestor, Johnny Hamp, Charley Agnew, Kay Kysor, Henry Busse and Paul Specht.

A prominent, out-of-town band will undoubtedly appeal to the alumni and non-student friends of Xavier University. However, this is only a minor phase; the important thing is satisfaction to the student body.

Before you vote consider this question. Should the elaborate details and glamor that surround a Junior Prom, the outstanding social function of the year, be forsaken for a reduced admission charge?

The committee will heartily welcome the suggestions of the student body. There will be a space on the ballot, which will appear in this issue of the NEWS, where students can write their suggestions.

Ballots must be turned in at the box near the Science Hall Bulletin Board before the close of school today.

Check item which you favor.

I approve, do not approve of the selection of a nationally known band at the usual price for the 1935 Junior Promenade.

I expect, do not expect to attend the Promenade.

A Rejuvenation

Its great triumph shall carry the work of the Masque Society forward. The intellectual development of the students of Xavier University shall further be demonstrated through the medium of dramatic art.

The first play of the current season, presented by the Masque Society last week, was a great success, both financially and artistically. Members of the cast and of the business staff cannot be too highly lauded for their excellent work. Although it took time and energy to produce this play it proved to be worth all the effort injected into it.

One of the most promising features of the evening was the large and enthusiastic audience that attended the initial performance of the Masquers. The response of the student body of Xavier University to dramatic entertainment has been most encouraging. It is obvious that at last a fair percentage of the students have become aware of a form of entertainment which is both pleasant and intellectual. With such a desire on the part of the student body the Masque Society of Xavier University shall recapture some of its past glory. The ball has started rolling; get behind it and push mightily and tirelessly. Expend all possible effort to keep the Masque Society alive and vital in the public mind.

Those who saw the performance last Wednesday witnessed the efforts of a group of promising actors who have unlimited possibilities. The ability of the Masquers, both individually and as a unit, can no longer be doubted. They have proven their worth too conclusively.

To the director of the play and to the moderator of the Masque Society should go a word of praise and congratulation. They are in a large part responsible for the great success of "Three Wise Fools." Their words of advice and encouragement have gone a long way in instilling confidence in the members of the cast.

The Masque Society has been reborn. Students of Xavier University have acted in the capacity of physician. They have done their part well. It is now up to the individuals associated with the Masque Society to carry the work forward. They cannot afford to neglect the new born infant. They must nourish it by presenting another play in the near future.

Other People's Opinion

Don't Sell Youth Short

We have little use for speakers who bludge that our nation was never so rich in opportunity for youth; that industry and society in general have never held such fair rewards for youth with vision and courage.

As individuals and as a generation we face a difficult and complex situation. We must recognize it whether older generations wish to or not. We are not the fair-haired children of prosperity. We are forced to change our ambitions and our standards. Whether we change them for something finer or something cheaper is our problem. The temptation toward the latter is almost overwhelming.

We may struggle for a subsistence security or we may assume the more difficult task of working out an economy of abundance. Remember the saying about cake-eating.

An editorial can convince you of nothing. It may suggest something to you.

Today, though the future is not so gaily colored or full of radiant rainbows (complete with pots of gold) as it was a few years ago, we can meet events with our minds cleared of the synthetic nonsense that has prevented clear work in the past.

The lightning has been stripped off the great illusions of our time; we must deal with the raw structure of history now. We must deal with it quickly, before it stamps us out.

The Black and Magenta.

NOW LET'S

By Vincent E. Smith

CONSIDER

UP FROM A DRUG-STORE

Considering the fact that genius is a form of insanity which enables one to become a creator, we are inclined to think of H. G. Wells in superlative terms and to maintain that he is one of the most remarkable men of the present voluminous era. But if we also bear in mind that one of the qualities of a good writer is that he contribute to the betterment of his reader, then we must confess that he is one of the most repelling of prominent literati and certainly the most to be condemned.

Without a doubt the literary spotlight has been focused on men, like Dickens, who have not always been accurate, especially in matters of history. Nevertheless, when a man gluts on fancy and becomes so diseased with error that he would overthrow the vital principles of society, he should be outlawed from that select group which seeks to provide profitable entertainment for men.

Having received a high scholastic average from the University of London, he would at first strike one as being thoroughly acquainted and impressed with a genuine philosophy. But just the opposite is true—because he has become so deeply submerged in a mire of falsehood that he now denies even the principle of contradiction, and will often disprove in the same book what he has said on an earlier page.

Since he has also devoted a considerable portion of his time to the study of social conditions, one would naturally expect remedial suggestions from him pertaining to the present status of men. Instead, he proposes a greater babel by advocating immorality and other tenets that would undermine our social system and lead, eventually, to utter chaos.

Contrary to the opinion prevalent in some circles, he is not at heart an anti-religionist. But regarding creed, he declares that everyone may have his own God and that each God may have entirely different characteristics. In his Outline of History, where he comments on pre-historic times, he deifies the Old Man of the tribe, though he admits that this creature is mortal and that he does not differ fundamentally from those whom he governs.

In addition to the fact that he has attacked almost every institution now existing, he has even gone so far as to find fault with the world, especially in the fact that it is too small for the span of his imagination. He does not write of international wars; he writes of wars between planets, and were it not for the fact that his language is a bit complex, he could heartily be recommended as a bed-time Tusitala for children. Most of what he writes is biographical and self-advertising as he does not hesitate to speak his own warped views through the mouths of his brittle, representative characters.

A Revival

The Class of 1926, under the stimulating efforts of Bill Savage, Joe Manley, and Ralph Kohnen held their first reunion since graduation at the Cincinnati Club Thursday, Jan. 31st, at 6:30 p. m. Rev. Father Boylan of the Xavier faculty was guest of honor at the dinner. In their rallying call the above committee called upon the members of the class to prove to Xavier authorities that they still exist—"the finest class that ever graced the terra-cottaed turrets and rough-stuccoed corridors of Bishop Fenwick's edifice."

Wells received his prep school training in Kent, where he was born in 1866. But as he was compelled to work in a small drug-store, due to the financial status of his family, he enjoyed so much leisure that it was possible for him to weave his net of false, deceiving notions. Later he continued his education, and after his graduation from the University of London in 1890, he delved into every art and science with equally distasteful results.

Since some of his books are of a high character, however, he must be a normal, intelligent man. And holding him in this light, it is quite difficult to account for his obvious falsehoods—for even a hen can easily know when she has laid an over-sized egg.

XAVIER CINCHES STATE TITLE

Muskies Flash New Center In Wittenberg Win

Bucklew, New Xavier Center, Leads Mates To Ohio Honor

Xavier's Musketeer basketball team chalked up its 11th victory of the current season by defeating the fighting Lutherans of Wittenberg, 48-29, thereby cinching the state title for the second time.

It was easily Xavier's game from the outset as the Springfield team was hopelessly outclassed in all departments of play. Led by Phil Bucklew and Russ Sweeney, the Musketeers rolled in 12 points before Wittenberg was able to counter with a field goal, continuing in smooth precision to take a 29-16 lead at intermission.

It was at this point that the Musketeers were given their greatest scare when the Lutherans rallied to come within four points of tying the score. After a time out, however, the Xavier players regained their bearings long enough to toss in buckets at will. It was just a case of too much Bucklew. Phil was all over the floor, taking balls off the bank, intercepting passes, batting 'em in on follow-up shots, and before the contest was finished, Battling "Buck" had collected a grand total of 14 points to head both teams in scoring. Russ Sweeney and Leo Sack also contributed good games to the Musketeer cause, collecting 10 and 12 points, respectively. Sweeney was forced to leave the game before half had been played, because of an injury.

Latest reports state that the injury was not serious, so Russ will be back at a forward position against Georgia Tech Saturday night.

Musketeers

Win Over Ohio U.

Scare Given Xavier As Bobcats Rally In Last Period; Score Is 29-28

After watching Xavier pull away with a close win over Ohio University by 29-28 last Friday night, cage fans of Cincinnati became convinced that the Musketeers' Fieldhouse is the place to come for all the thrills capable of being packed into the court game.

With the score tied six times during the conflict, and with the Big Blue trying desperately to find itself after losing Russ Sweeney in the first minute of the second half, the boys from Athens barely missed pulling an upset in the closing minutes of play.

After leading at the half, 19-17, Coach Crowe's boys went into a 22-18 lead, only to have Berens tie it up with two fielders from under the basket.

By virtue of Sack's field goal and a foul shot, the Musketeers were content to hold a three point lead with two minutes to go.

May's shot from the 17-foot line connected as the game ended 29 to 28.

The Blue Mite, Leo Sack, contributed seven points and a fine floor game for Xavier honors, while Bernie Berens brought his Ohio scoring record to 725 points in 54 games by tallying 15 markers.

Georgia Tech To Play Musketeers Saturday Night

Xavier Favored Over Golden Tornadoes, But Southerners May Pull Surprise

Sweeping out of the Southland for a tour of the Mid-West, the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech blows into Cincinnati for a game with Clem Crowe's Musketeers at the fieldhouse Saturday night.

The game will mark the beginning of athletic relations between the two schools, and should provide an inter-sectional color for the followers of the Big Blue.

With the McKenna, Koprowski, Kruse, Sack, and Sweeney combine intact, and with Maier, Bucklew, and Tepe showing to better advantage every day, Xavier should register a victory over the Yellow Jackets who hold only one triumph in the south-eastern conference to date.

Although enjoying victories over their last two opponents, Coach Crowe's boys are beginning to show signs of wear after the strenuous campaign of the last two weeks. They should however, hold an edge over the band from Atlanta.

"I LIKE CAMEL'S mild and pleasing flavor. It is one that I never tire of! And I find that Camels never upset my nerves. Smoking a Camel gives me a feeling of renewed energy, too." (Signed) BOBBY WALTHOUR, JR., former amateur bicycle champion of United States and winner of 6 six-day bicycle races

"HOW GOOD IT IS to sit down and enjoy the delightfully pleasing flavor of a Camel," says this enthusiastic young sportsman. "The feeling of exhaustion slips away as Camels unlock my store of energy. My spirits improve. And I feel wide awake once more." (Signed) MARDEB HOFF

CAMEL PAYS
MILLIONS MORE..
"Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

"I'M STUDYING TO BE AN ARCHITECT," says Kling, '38. "My course includes structural engineering... designing... drafting—regular classroom work. And when I'm working on my term project, for example, trying to figure complete plans and specifications, I'm at it for hours at a time, often late into the night. Sure, it tires me. But when I feel fatigued and can't concentrate, I pull out a Camel. And as I enjoy Camel's fine, rich flavor, I can actually feel my energy being restored. Soon I am back at work—feeling fresh and clear. Camels are so mild that I smoke them all the time, and they don't ever bother my nerves." (Signed) VINCENT KLING, '38

Scene Of Senior Breakfast Will Be Announced Soon

The traditional Senior Breakfast to follow the Junior Promenade, is once again being prepared by the graduating class.

This year's breakfast promises to be a most enjoyable close to the annual Prom according to Richard Reichle and William Dodd who are making the preparations. The scene of the breakfast will be the Gibson Rathskeller.

The committeemen are making every effort to secure the services of the orchestra beyond the usual hours so that the diners may enjoy music along with the breakfast.

Side Glances AT THE Intramurals

The Elet Hall division of the intramural basketball league advanced into the elimination stage last Sunday morning. With defeat meaning elimination to the losers, the play was marked by spirited guarding and an abundance of bodily contact.

The first game was a close affair between the Sioux and the Blackfeet. The Sioux eked out a 16-13 win in the final minutes of play. G. Donkel again led his team's scoring with 6 points.

Moseman's Mohawk aggregation proved too much for "Hetty" Holden's Shawnees and romped to a 17-5 victory.

"Roughhouse" Dremar's Cherokees were a simple problem for Farasey's Apaches, who salved them to the tune of 18-2. Farasey, Sills and Spehn dominated the scoring column.

Darragh's Crows staged a rally in the second half to take over McCormick and his Iroquois-men 17-10. Hofherr paced the winners with 5 field goals while Balla and Manaco brought up the losers.

Next Sunday the card of games will be cut to two, from which the finalists will emerge to play for the championship the following week.

The elimination rounds in the Day Student division will begin tomorrow. After champions have been determined in both divisions, the two will meet in a title contest preliminary to a Varsity game.

Civil War Figure Is Topic Of Talk

Father Nolan To Appear In Series With Lecture On Abraham Lincoln

The second in a series of lectures sponsored by the Xavier University Alumni Association will be given by the Rev. Thomas A. Nolan, S. J., next Sunday evening in the ballroom of the Sinton-St. Nicholas Hotel at 8:15 o'clock.

Father Nolan, professor of History at Xavier, will talk on "Lincoln As Men Knew Him." He recently visited Virginia where he gathered new and interesting facts on this great personage of the Civil War. Last year, he spoke of Lincoln in his relation to the question of slavery.

He will be followed on Sunday, February 24, by the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sullivan, S. J., Bishop of Patna, who will talk on "American Jesuits in India." The Rev. Robert E. Manning, S. J., of the Xavier Department of Greek, will conclude the series on March 3, with "News Flashes from the Ancient World."

All lectures in the series begin at 8:15. They are open to the public. Joseph A. Verkamp, Alumni president, introduces the speakers.

Many Educations Hinge on Versatility, Survey Shows

Students at Kansas State College mean to get an education as economically as they know how. To defray part of their expenses they assist in preparing their own meals, and help with the housekeeping in the dormitories.

What the students in Kansas are doing is not new or unusual. Practically every large university has students who are more or less dependent wholly or partially upon their own resourcefulness and industry to acquire the benefit of higher education.

Reports indicating a decided increase in the number of students who are working their way through college are interesting to us because for one thing they represent the growing development of self reliance and initiative in the average college man or woman. Perhaps, he is not so helpless an individual as has been often pictured.

Another sign in college life, though less noticeable than the one just noted, is the healthy attitude the majority of students have of their own circumstances. Depression has spared none, the student included, but his reaction toward its effects has never taken the form of violent demonstration or of extreme bitterness against society. Instead he has made the most of his situation by finding means to adjust himself to it. The last laugh may still be had at the expense of those who persist in saying that the time spent in getting college education is a total loss.

Rigid Organization

Demanded By Chairman; Glee Club Plans Considered

A more rigid organization of the Social Committee to expedite the business of the present semester was insisted upon at a meeting last Monday afternoon by chairman Tom Schmidt. The members voted to select Friday afternoon as the regular meeting date. Henceforth a permanent record of all business transactions of the Committee will be in the hands of the Secretary.

Joseph Link, Jr., submitted a letter of petition for the consideration of the Committee concerning the annual Clef Club dance. In the past this dance was more or less a closed affair given by the University as a reward for the efforts put forth by the Glee Club members. This year it is the hope of the club to make this dance an open affair in order to help defray some of the expenses connected with their organization.

This matter was given due consideration by the Committee and will be reported upon at a later date.

Mr. Charles McEvoy, Freshman Class president was appointed to the office of corresponding secretary.

No better food—

ICE CREAM
Ohio Valley Dairy Council

A section of the department where Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended.

Just what is meant by cross-blending tobaccos . . . and how does it make a cigarette milder and taste better . . .

Well, in blending you take two or more tobaccos and mix them together—a rather simple process. But cross-blending goes a step further . . .

IN making Chesterfields we take Bright tobacco from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. We take Burley tobacco from Kentucky and Tennessee, and tobacco from Southern Maryland.

Then in addition to these home-grown tobaccos we take tobacco grown in Turkey and Greece.

We balance these mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos with the right amounts and the right kinds of aromatic Turkish.

Then, instead of just mixing the tobaccos together, we blend and cross-blend them so that all the different flavors go together into one full flavor—the Chesterfield taste that so many smokers like.

Cross-blending tobaccos as it is done in Chesterfields gives the cigarette a pleasing taste and aroma—they're mild and yet They Satisfy.
